

GIGANTIC FOREIGN AID JOB RUSHED

TAXES SLICED,
BUT PERHAPS NOT FOR LONGWARNINGS ALREADY HEARD TO EXPECT
SUDDEN BOOST

BY FRANCIS M. LE MAY

Washington, April 3 (P)—Some 52,000,000 taxpayers, now figuring how to use $4,800,000,000 they got in tax relief, were put on notice today to expect a swift tax boost if national security demands it.

The tax cut was put into law yesterday as Congress, by an overwhelming vote, overrode President Truman's veto. He had said this reduction in federal revenues "would undermine the soundness of our government finances at a time when world peace depends upon the strength of the United States."

But House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said:

"If defense needs increase beyond what has been outlined, we would, of course, take any necessary steps to keep a balanced budget. The Congress will provide adequate funds which, if properly spent, will give us full protection."

And Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.), author of the tax-slashing bill, added:

"Should an emergency develop the Congress will take such steps as are necessary because we do not propose to tolerate a return to deficit spending."

Votes to Spare

In the showdown between Congress and the President yesterday, the House passed the tax cut 311 to 88—45 more than the two-thirds majority required to override a veto. The Senate rang up a 77 to 10 vote—15 to spare.

Deserting the President to vote for the Republican-backed bill were 82 House Democrats and 27 Senate Democrats.

The government printing office immediately got the signal to start the presses rolling on new forms for reduced tax withholdings. These go into effect May 1.

This is the general tax picture now:

1. The 52,000,000 income taxpayers get reductions, effective last January 1, ranging from 100 per cent in the lowest income tax bracket to 5 per cent in the highest brackets. About 7,400,000 low income persons were removed from the tax rolls completely.

2. On May 1 tax withholdings from all wages and salaries will be reduced. And next year millions of taxpayers will get refunds from the government on the overpayment of taxes between January and May.

Probably the happiest person over the tax cut was Knutson, who said Mr. Truman kill two of his $4,000,000,000 tax-slashing bills last year.

"This is the crowning feature of my life," he said.

The new law accomplishes tax cutting primarily by:

1. Raising personal exemptions from $500 to $600.

2. Applying the community property principle to all states, permitting husbands and wives to split the family income equally for tax reporting purposes.

3. Granting percentage cuts ranging from 12.6 per cent in the low income area to 5 per cent in the higher brackets.

4. Giving special exemptions to persons 65 and over and to the blind.

American Troops
Cut Off Russians
In Berlin Sector

BY LYNN HEINZERLING

Berlin, April 3 (P)—The U. S. Army, counter-attacking Russian restrictions in Berlin, turned back two Soviet generals and 20 other Russians today from a railroad administration building the Russians occupy in the U. S. sector of the city.

Fifty U. S. military policemen barred entrance to all but the 1,100 Germans employed in the building. Some Russian officers remained inside the offices, and the American guards permitted the Russians to bring food for them.

The railroad building, near the border of the U. S.-Soviet sectors, has been occupied by the Russians under a 1945 agreement. Similarly, the Russians occupy the Berlin radio station in the British zone.

The American guards bore sidearms and carbines.

Col. Frank L. Howe, head of the U. S. military government in Berlin, said the American move was made because Russians in recent nights sent guards to the building after nightfall. The Russians claimed a new guard had been put in the building because of reports that criminal German elements were planning to destroy records there.

FOES OF DRAFT
AND UMT HEARDThree Senate Witnesses
Oppose Eisenhower

Washington, April 3 (P)—Three witnesses lined up in the Senate today to oppose Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's stand that a draft and universal military training are vital to this country's safety.

The three opposition witnesses include Atomic Scientist Dr. H. D. Smyth. They will wind up the Senate Armed Service committee hearings on the twin proposals asked by President Truman to support his "Stop-Russia" policy.

Chairman Gurney (R-S.D.) will call the group into closed session Tuesday to prepare legislation for Senate debate.

Specific recommendations for both draft and UMT measures were submitted to the Armed Service committees of both houses yesterday by Secretary of Defense Forrestal. He asked for registration of men up to 45, with a limited draft of non-veterans between the ages of 19 and 26.

The cabinet member said events of the past few weeks have made the two programs more necessary than ever. And Eisenhower appeared before the Senate group in person, still wearing his be-ribboned army uniform (to lend support to that stand).

"In any war now," he said emphatically, "the first 30 to 60 days may determine our ability to carry on. We won't win a war that quickly, but the period is important."

Treaty With Spain
Opposed in Manila

Manila, April 3 (P)—Opposition to ratification of a treaty of friendship with Spain mounted in the Philippines senate today.

The treaty was signed last Sept. 27.

The question comes up for a vote Tuesday. Members of President Manuel A. Roxas' liberal party could fight but 14 votes, two shy of the two-thirds majority needed for ratification.

Minority members of the senate, and a few of the liberals, argued the pact violated a provision of the constitution limiting land ownership to Filipinos and U. S. citizens.

The treaty would allow Spanish nationals to buy and sell immovable property in the Philippines.

Senate Bill Sets
Up Commission for Isle Royale Park

Washington, April 3 (P)—The Senate interior committee approved yesterday a bill providing for appointment of U. S. commissioners for Isle Royale, Mich., and three other national parks without the okay of the secretary of the interior.

The measure has been passed by the House.

Commissioners would continue to be appointed by the U. S. district court having jurisdiction over each area.

LATIN AMERICAN
UNITY IMPROVEDRussian Moves Help To Bind 21 Nations

BY LESLIE HIGLEY

Bogota, Colombia, April 3. (P)—Russia's latest move in Germany seemed today to have promoted greater solidarity among the 21 nations attending the ninth Pan American conference here.

Diplomats and observers apparently were agreed that the Soviet's announced blockade of land traffic into Berlin has aligned several nations more strongly with the United States.

They felt, too, that such an alignment may bolster support of the U. S. effort to obtain concrete conference action against alleged Communist infiltration. The Chilean delegation, strongly favoring such action, already has circulated the draft of an anti-Communist resolution.

Some observers felt the new attitude is significant, especially since some resentment seemed to follow U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall's remarks on Thursday.

Then he said the Washington government will help other American nations as much as it can but over the years they must look to private capital for assistance.

Jilted Suitor Dies
After Shooting At
Royal Oak Studio

Detroit, April 3. (P)—Alexander Griffin, 27, who police said shot and killed the woman who rejected his love, followed her in death last night.

Shot in the head with the same gun that fatally wounded Elizabeth Morris, 22-year-old music teacher, Thursday, Griffin died last before midnight in suburban Royal Oak general hospital.

Sgt. James Soule of the Royal Oak police said Griffin went to Miss Morris' studio while she was giving a piano lesson. After a quarrel, the officer reported, Griffin fired five shots into the woman's body, then turned the gun on himself.

Pay Raises Asked
In Iron Ore Mines

Duluth, Minn., April 3. (P)—Iron ore mining companies in Upper Michigan as well as Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin have been asked by the CIO United Steel Workers Union to grant "general and substantial" wage boosts.

The union, representing some 25,000 miners in the three states, notified the companies yesterday of its wish to reopen present contracts for pay negotiations.

Wage talks may begin within five days, it was announced by Smalle Chataik, international CIO-USW representative from Pittsburgh.

Fares On Detroit
Buses Up 3 Cents

Detroit (P)—When the department of street railways raises its fares from 10 to 13 cents Monday, the Greyhound Bus Company will put into effect other boosts on lines connecting Detroit with Highland Park, Pleasant Ridge, Ferndale and Royal Oak. Permission for the increases was granted Friday by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Ringling's Circus
Opens in New York

New York, April 3 (P)—Spring officially is here for the kids of New York: The big show is in town.

The 51 sleek, streamlined cars of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey's circus slid into a Bronx railway siding yesterday. The show paraded to Madison Square Garden where it will open its season from April 7 to May 9.

SIGLER LOSES HIS GRIP ON
MICHIGAN GOPSTATE CONVENTION
SLATE RUNS INTO OPPOSITION

BY JACK I. GREEN

Detroit, April 3 (P)—Governor Sigler's leadership of the Michigan Republican party was being strained to the limit today as the G. O. P. delegates met for their state convention.

Conversely, U. S. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg's refusal to announce himself as a candidate for the presidential nomination appeared to be the guiding rule of the convention.

Holding a tight rein on the delegates' desire to plump full length for Vandenberg for president, the party leadership prepared a resolution which spoke fulsomely of the senior senator's statesmanlike qualities but avoided talk of the White House.

Governor In Trouble

But Sigler's declaration of a slate for the seven delegates at large to the national G. O. P. convention in Philadelphia in June was meeting a tide of opposition.

The governor, who stormed to leadership of his party 18 months ago, was reported to be in trouble securing his will with the 1,533 delegates.

Sigler was said to be backing away from the all-male slate which he outlined in Lansing last week, and was considering placing a woman, a veteran and a Young Republican on the official ticket.

Sigler was reported to be determined to place Detroit Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy on the delegation in payment for past campaign assistance and in spite of the opposition of the Wayne county precinct organization, the dominant factor in metropolitan politics.

The chairmanship was generally reserved for the governor, but Sigler's position on the rest of the ticket was obscure.

A week ago he said his ticket would include Harry B. Earhart, retired Ann Arbor industrialist; L. C. Walker, Muskegon industrialist; George Fink, Detroit industrialist; John A. Wagner, Republican state chairman; either Toy or Arthur H. Vandenberg, the Wayne county G. O. P. chairman; and probably Roy Hollingsworth, Sault Ste. Marie.

Precinct Miffed

In pre-convention talk only Walker, Toy, Earhart and Hollingsworth remained, and the precinct organization was miffed about the retention of Toy.

Republicans from the 12th congressional district in the west end of the Upper Peninsula sought help to substitute William A. Burns, Ironwood auto dealer, for Hollingsworth, but indications were that they would be unsuccessful.

Aside from a test of Sigler's leadership, the debate over the seven delegates-at-large was important to the secondary issue of the convention—the selection of a Republican National committee-woman from Michigan.

Mrs. Dudley C. Hay of Detroit, the incumbent and secretary of the national committee, was being challenged by Mrs. Rae C. Hooker of Mt. Pleasant, the vice-chairman of the State Central committee.

The contest was so close that most observers thought it would not be settled until the 41-man

Election Appeals Stepped Up For Workers in Italy

Rome, April 3. (P)—Italy's workers were the main target of political appeals by government leaders today as campaigning was stepped up for the April 18 election.

Interior Minister Mario Scelba told voters in a broadcast they must choose between "Communism and Democracy."

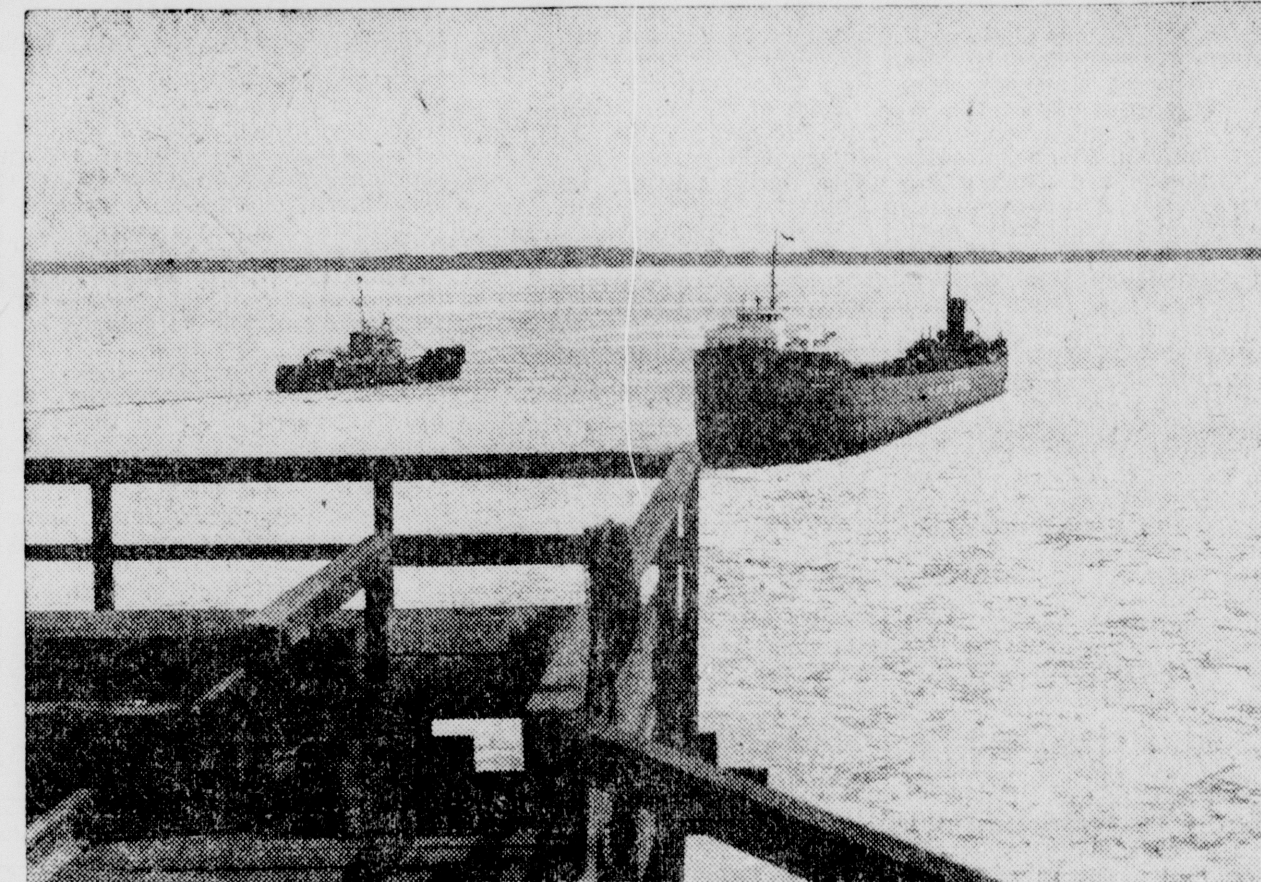

A government commission announced completion of study for broad reforms of the nation's security laws. Premier Alcide De Gasperi said the proposed social security aids were the hope of "a million old workers who, despite the improvements granted last year and this year, still count every mouthful of bread."

In Venice, Merchant Marine Minister Paolo Cappa spoke in praise of American aid to Italy. A few fevers were drowned out by the acclaim of the majority of the listeners.

Court Order Asked To End Coal Strike

Washington, April 3 (P)—President Truman today directed Attorney General Tom Clark to seek a court order to end the three week coal strike.

Clark received his instructions from Mr. Truman in person at the White House.

The President acted shortly after John L. Lewis sent a message to the nearly 400,000 idle miners telling them to do as they please about returning to the pits.

Lewis disclaimed any personal responsibility for the walkout. Mr. Truman also released the report of a three-man fact finding board on the dispute.

The board's report blamed Lewis individually for causing the walkout. It said:

"We find independent action was taken by the President of the United Mine Workers of America (Lewis) in the form of communications to the officers and members of the United Mine Workers of America which induced them to take concerted action to stop work in all the mines of the operators signatory to the agreement of July 8, 1947."

The report added:

"We find the stoppage was not independent action by miners acting individually and separately. Their stoppage has precipitated a crisis in the industry and in the nation as a whole."

Charles C. Ross, White House secretary, was asked how soon Clark could be expected to apply for an injunction against Lewis and the striking union members.

SECRET ATOMIC
TESTS STARTEDHonolulu Paper Says
Soviets Took Peek

Honolulu, April 3. (P)—The Navy remained silent today on a Honolulu newspaper's story that an atomic task force sailed March 8 for the super-secret Eniwetok testing ground in full view of a Russian ship.

The story in the Honolulu Advertiser also speculated that initial phases of the tests had been under way for two weeks and that they may involve guided missiles with atomic warheads.

The story, published Wednesday, said the flagship Mt. McKinley sailed from Pearl Harbor while the Russian motorship Dnestr was in "easy binocular distance" in Honolulu harbor.

Furthermore, said the Advertiser, four Russian sailing ships had departed only the day before. All five, it added, will travel in consort to Vladivostok on a course that normally would take them close to the 30,000 square miles around Eniwetok which the U. S. closed to all foreign ships.

The Navy had asked all newspapers and news agencies in Honolulu not to mention ship movements to Eniwetok on the sailing date. It said such news would furnish a clue to Eniwetok experiment time tables.

Military reporter Buck Buchanan said the story of the ship movement was published only after the United Press distributed a Washington story speculating that a new atomic bomb had been or soon would be exploded. He said that made it clear that security had broken down.

"That's up to the attorney general," Ross said.

With the nation fast reaching the bottom of its coal piles, the United Mine Workers' chief said that:

1. He has never ordered, or even suggested, that the men quit work.

2. It isn't a "strike," but only the decisions of individual miners to stop working (Lewis has contended they are just unwilling to work).

3. Whether the miners remain idle rests entirely with the individuals, without orders from him or any other union official.

Union headquarters declined to interpret the meaning of Lewis' letter.

Promptly, observers took two lines of speculation.

1. Some thought this was Lewis' (Continued On Page 12)

PRICE OF PORK
DUE FOR SLUMPHogs In Chicago Market
Lowest Since 1946

Chicago, April 3. (P)—The "black gold" of the farm belt—grunting hogs—is beginning to tarnish.

Pork on the hoof is selling at lowest prices today since OPA price ceilings were removed in October, 1946. It's bad news for pig producers, but good for pork consumers.

The best price obtained for hogs here yesterday was $22.25 a hundred pounds, and only one car sold at that figure. For practical purposes, the top was $22.00.

That compares with a record high of $30.50 on Sept. 11 last year. Back in the OPA days the ceiling was $16.25, and there was a small subsidy paid out of taxpayers' contributions to the federal treasury.

What's behind the price drop? Agriculture department experts at the stockyards placed most responsibility on a declining dressed pork market, which in turn reflected consumer resistance at the retail level. One meat packer representative said, "all we know is there's plenty of meat."

Under a seldom used procedure the hotly-debated issue was revived yesterday after the House Agricultural committee had previously bottled it up.

Rep. Rivers (D-Sc) presented 218 signatures of fellow-house members who backed his petition for further action.

New Battle Looms
On Margarine Tax

Washington, April 3. (P)—The house lined up today for a new battle over oleomargarine taxes.

On or before April 26 it will be called on to decide whether to repeal the present federal levies that have been imposed for many years.

BIG PROGRAM DESIGNED TO STOP RUSSIAFLOW OF U. S. GOODS
STARTS FOR ASIA AND EUROPE

Washington, April 3 (P)—President Truman today signed the history-making $6,098,000,000 foreign aid bill into law.

The President in a statement said the signing "is a momentous occasion in the world's quest for enduring peace."

His action came as the administration was at work turning the legislation into a barrier against Communism in Europe and Asia.

The vast program, center piece of the government's "stop-Russia" strategy, is designed to rush American goods and money to 15 Western European nations, with extra funds—including military aid—for Greece, Turkey and China.

Skeleton Set Up

The Soviet Union and its satellites in turn have proclaimed their intent to wreck the recovery effort.

The urgent effort to start the new flow of American goods at once arises from the State Department's desire to reassure Western Europe that economic help is on the way and to bolster anti-Communist forces in the anti-18 Italian election.

Ready for action by the president—in addition to the bill itself—was an executive order creating a temporary European cooperation administration to run the European recovery program the first thirty days. After that, the EEP's own administrator will take over.

Under secretary of State Lovett announced yesterday that the State Department has a skeleton organization all set up and ready to swing into action Monday.

Two Big Jobs Open

Mr. Truman also has the task, which his advisers consider less urgent than start of the program, or naming the administrator for the whole huge operation. And he must select a roving ambassador to supervise the distribution and coordinate the use of American help.

Speculation over the $20,000 a year administrative position, which carries cabinet rank, centered upon Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corporation. For the $25,000 a year assignment as roving ambassador diplomats here expected the selection of Lewis W. Douglas, American ambassador to Great Britain.

Lovett said he did not know how long it would take to get shiploads of American food, fuel and industrial machinery moving. But he said there will be no break in the current flow of supplies financed by various special and temporary appropriations.

The major provision of the bill—which the House passed yesterday, 318 to 75, and the Senate by a voice vote—authorizes a 4½ year economic recovery program.

ORE SHIPPING IS UNDER WAY

Two Carriers Will Dock Today, One Sunday

The ore shipping season has started auspiciously at Escanaba with two boats loaded and cleared, a third to clear this afternoon, and three other boats scheduled to arrive today and tomorrow.

Lee McMillan, C&NW dock agent, said the ore is only partly frozen and that some thawing is necessary in loading the pockets. Loadings are being made without too much difficulty and the two first boats, the L. E. and E. J. Block, were loaded yesterday afternoon.

The Block boats, both of the Inland Steel line, did not clear for South Chicago until this morning, their captains preferring to leave after daylight to take their boats out of Green Bay ice.

They were escorted by the Coast Guard cutter Wodborne, which had returned to the harbor early this afternoon.

The carrier International arrived late yesterday and will clear this afternoon.

Scheduled to arrive today are the Joseph Block and the McCullough. The Harvey Brown is expected to arrive Sunday morning, the last boat scheduled until Monday.

The Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw left the harbor Thursday and went to Sault Ste. Marie, on her way to Lake Superior, to open the ports of Marquette, Duluth and Superior.

Red Cross Drive Short $422; Bay De Noc Complete

The Delta County Red Cross fund drive lacks $422 to complete the quota of $12,750. Bay de Noc township has completed its drive and contributed $108 toward the social service fund.

In Escanaba Zone three was completed today. It was announced by Trygve Olsen, captain. He was assisted by Helen Thorin, Mrs. Joseph Lequin, Mrs. Alfred Bonamer, Mrs. Albin Carlson, F. J. Larson, Kenneth Lequia, Mrs. Bourke, Edward Reynolds, Mrs. Gerald Villeneuve, Mrs. C. W. Vadnais, Mata Peterson, Mrs. William Johnson, Larry Gutreuter, Nick Milkovich and Clifford Anderson.

In addition to previously mentioned assistants in zone 1, the following were active: Harry Gruber, John Kallman and Dean Kennell. All were block captains.

Because Delta County residents have so little left to reach their goal, the Red Cross has announced it will continue its solicitation until the quota is met.

The Bay de Noc drive was accomplished by Lawrence Johnson, chairman, Mrs. Gust Nelson, Orville Pederson, Robert Johnson, Wallace Thorsen, Myron Lorenson and Andrew Johnson.

SUGAR BUSHES ACTIVE AGAIN

Harvest Of Maple Sap Begins In Delta

The annual spring harvest of maple sap in Delta county is now getting started, but it is too early to determine the quantity to be expected, according to J. L. Heiman, county agricultural agent.

Yesterday evening at the court house in Escanaba, Jim Wells, superintendent of the MSC experimental station at Chatham, and Agent Heiman, met with some of the maple syrup producers of the county to discuss production methods. Wells told of production methods at the experimental station and exhibited some of the recommended equipment used in collecting the maple sap.

There was some discussion of organizing a Delta county maple syrup producers association, but this will probably be delayed another year.

In Lower Michigan, where the sap harvest is well under way, the flow is reported to be slow because of lack of freezing weather.

The collection of sap is now starting in sugar bushes on several Delta county farms, and some boiling has been done. The best weather conditions to encourage a flow of sap is sunny days and frosty night.

Ernest Belanger, class vice president, and guest, Miss Mary Groos; Ronald Johnson, secretary, and guest, Miss Kathryn Ferrin, and James Deane, treasurer, and guest, Miss Betty Pearson, followed in the procession.

A large crowd, not quite as large as last year's, observed from the balcony.

POLICE HUNT FOR ASSAILANT

Choked Woman, Asks For Purse; Foiled

Escanaba police are seeking a young man, 22 or 23 years old who grabbed Mrs. Gust Anderson, 1104 Sheridan road, by the throat Friday afternoon and demanded her purse after Mr. and Mrs. Anderson had driven the young man into Escanaba from Ford River.

After the assailant attacked Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Anderson grabbed the young man but he broke away and escaped down an alley between 12th and 13th street, near 10th avenue south.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson picked up the young fellow at Ford River Friday afternoon as the man was hitch-hiking into town. He asked to be let out of the car at 10th avenue and South 12th street.

As Mr. Anderson stopped the car, the young man, who was riding in the rear seat, grabbed Mrs. Anderson by the throat and demanded her purse. The scuffle with Mr. Anderson followed and the young fellow ran away.

He was described as follows: about 5 feet, 9 or 10 inches tall, thin face, light build, dark hair, dark complexion, wearing a black and white jacket and blue trousers. He did not wear a cap or hat.

Riding into Escanaba from Ford River, the young fellow told Mr. and Mrs. Anderson that he had not lived in Escanaba for about two years. Police discounted this story, however.

GETS PARACHUTE WINGS — T/5 Clarence F. Massard of 1610 N. 18th St., Escanaba, Mich., son of Mr. F. J. Massard, same address, has successfully completed the rigid five week basic airborne course at the infantry school, Fort Benning, Georgia, and has been awarded the official United States army parachute wings.

His air indoctrination included a glider flight to acquaint him with modern glider warfare. Practical instruction in ground assembly, parachute rigging and maintenance, and loading and lashing of Airborne cargo — vital skills in all Airborne units — were included in his period of training.

During this training he made five parachute jumps from Army cargo aircraft at an altitude of 1,000 feet and achieved the high score necessary to pass the "Paratroop" physical fitness test.

Be Sure To Vote

MONDAY, APRIL 5, is election day in Escanaba. In many ways it is an election day as important as the November election day when the United States will select its president for the next four years. For the people of Escanaba, April 5, next Monday, is a day of momentous decision because the voters will choose at that time three members of the city council, a number sufficiently large to control the affairs of municipal government for four years.

It is often argued that the votes of a small group can have only the most insignificant effect on national elections. The argument is open to question, but even that argument cannot be presented as an excuse for failure to vote next Monday. The people of Escanaba and only the people of Escanaba will select the three new councilmen at Monday's election.

It is a decision for you—and you alone. The conduct of local affairs is extremely important to every citizen of Escanaba. Local government, in fact, is the root of democracy.

Study the candidates who have presented themselves for your consideration as civic leaders. Then vote for those whom you believe will provide the kind of governmental leadership that is needed to keep Escanaba ahead.

By all means, be sure to vote in Monday's election.

Treaty "Joker"

THE DEMANDS that the Kremlin has made upon Finland in negotiating the mutual assistance pact have just come to light and they indicate how completely the Russians intend to engulf Finland in the future. The Russians proposed, for instance, that Red troops would be sent into Finland in the event of any "emergency" and that the Russians, not the Finns, would decide what constituted an emergency.

In effect, the Russians demanded the right to send Red troops into Finland any time that the Kremlin wished to do so. To the credit of the Finns, they boldly rejected this joker in the projected treaty. Instead the Finns suggested that they retain the right to determine if and when they would need support from the Red army and further added that Finland would decline military cooperation from Russia except in an actual state of war.

What other military commitments the Soviets demanded from Finland have not yet been divulged. If the joker clause had been approved by the Finns, the Reds, of course, would need no other commitments because they could simply move their troops into Finland and take over complete charge of the country at their leisure.

This is the kind of a pal that the Finns will get in their friendship treaty with Russia.

Get Tough Diplomacy

THERE is a candidate for president who has been preaching for more than a year that the leaders of both major parties are committed to a policy of "get tough with Russia." Now at last there is some basis for his accusations. But most Americans, except for this candidate and his followers, will doubtless find encouragement in that fact.

The Truman Doctrine was not a get-tough policy. It was a move to save Greece from the imminent danger of communism imposed forcibly by the agents of a tough Russia. It was also a move to save Turkey from the certainty of a similar fate if her neighbor Greece were overcome.

The ERP is not a get-tough policy, either. Originally the Marshall Plan was meant to include Russia and her satellites. The European trend toward mutual military defense, with ERP's help, is a defensive gesture which arises from Russia's opposition to ERP and continuing aggression.

Neither was the decision to rebuild western Germany and make it an economic unit an example of toughness toward Russia. This, too, was a forced move resulting from Russia's intransigence and insistence on a policy which would amount to America's financing German reparation payments to Russia.

But four recent events have finally given some notice that the U. S. intends to get tough. They are: Mr. Truman's request for selective service; the proposal to return Trieste to Italy; the notice to Italians that there would be no ERP for them if they voted in a Communist government; the decision to leave the American zone of Germany under Army supervision and to keep our forces in Berlin.

These four events do not constitute war-mongering. Far from it. The first is simply a move to bring our defenses up to peacetime strength. The second and third are attempts to counter a Soviet maneuver before it happens instead of after. The last calls a Soviet bluff.

These moves do not mean war. They simply mean that American policy is becoming focused where formerly it was diffused. The process of focusing is not yet complete. There is still a lot of aimless, time-wasting fuss over things of minor importance. Politics inevitably intrude.

Nevertheless, there are signs that this country is becoming determined in a positive way. Problems of diplomacy and defense are being dealt with more as a unit, even though our defenses are by no means secure and our diplomacy still suffers somewhat from confusion and short-sightedness.

The country must hasten to build up its military strength. At the same time it can scarcely be denied that the problem is in the last analysis, diplomatic. Our goal is peace and justice. Our aim is to avoid war, even if we must put ourselves on a war-time footing to do so. To start a war—a so-called preventive war—would be to confess a tragic and complete failure of statesmanship.

Spain Not Invited

HOUSE AND SENATE conferees have agreed to strike Spain from the list of nations eligible to share in American assistance provided by the European Recovery act. The deletion assures cooperation from the 16 nations of western Europe, none of which desired Fascist Spain to be included in the cooperative effort for the economic development of western Europe.

The House had included Spain in the list of eligible nations because Franco's government is an avowed foe of Communism, the spread of which the ERP seeks to check, and because many congressmen felt that Spain could make a contribution to the economic growth of other nations in Europe. The dictatorship of Franco, however, has made his government unpopular with democratic elements in western Europe and, for that matter, in this country as well.

The question of whether Spain should be or should not be included in the American aid program was not really a question that the United States could decide alone. The European recovery program, better known as the Marshall Plan, is not solely an American program. Its success, in fact, is predicated upon the full cooperation of participating nations. If the western European nations who have already collaborated to work out their end of the deal do not want Spain in the program—and they have shown already that they do not—no good could come of any American determination to bring Spain into the picture. Senator Vandenberg pointed that out to his colleagues in the Senate, which explains why the Senate did not go along with the House on this phase of the problem.

BLAME IT ON RADIO (Detroit News)

"Who," a subscriber asks, "is responsible for the present-day style of singing?" That is a good question; we know just what our reader means.

The prevailing nerveless style of singing should be laid, we believe, to radio, and beyond that, to the radio listener.

In the typical living room of an evening, a householder is taking his ease with a newspaper as a radio percolates nearby.

His meditations over the comics or the sports pages are disturbed not at all by a Como or the equivalent among the lady baritones, whereas an old-fashioned vocalist, trained to fill a hall without the aid of amplifiers, would, if turned loose at the mike, electrify the listener to an extent that would make him lose his place in the race results or L'il Abner.

The same goes for Junior writing a theme for tomorrow in English. Also for the boys in the bars who prefer that their discourses be not interrupted by the robust, voluminous voices of singers in full cry, as in the '20s and decades before.

Singing—and other music—via radio has become a sort of obligato, faintly heard above whatever else is doing in the American evening. There is nothing, so far as we know, to be done about this.

World Events Analyzed

BY PETER EDSON

"Washington. (NEA)—This beating that President Harry S. Truman gets is really something. But when you add up the crimes of which he is accused, they amount to simply this:

Edson

He has been opposed to a tax cut all along because he believes: (1) That the national debt should be reduced while national income is high. (2) That national defense is going to cost a lot more money which should come out of taxes, not from borrowing.

People who object to this policy are in a funny position. They used to criticize Roosevelt because he ran up the debt. Now they criticize Truman because he wants to pay it off as fast as possible.

The president thinks there ought to be a federal law against lynching people. He thinks the poll tax should be abolished as a requirement for voting in federal elections. Only seven of the 48 states still have poll taxes.

The president thinks there should be a Permanent Fair Employment Practices Commission to prevent "unfair" discrimination. Not all discrimination—just "unfair" discrimination. He thinks Jim Crowism should be eliminated on interstate transportation. He doesn't say on local buses and street cars—just those which cross state lines.

OTHER PROPOSALS ON THE PAN
For these four and six more general civil rights proposals like admitting Hawaii and Alaska to statehood, giving District of Columbia citizens the right to vote and admitting Orientals to citizenship in this great "melting pot" country that is now trying to save the rest of the world for democracy, the president is threatened by revolt from within his own party.

Truman's proposals for UMT and a temporary draft law to build up the armed forces and reserves are criticized with about the same degree of consistency. The president is panned by his opponents because he didn't ask for more air power. In any defense program, however, the first requirement is man power. There isn't any use ordering more planes or tanks or runs unless there is trained man-power to run them.

The president has now announced that he will send a special message to Congress on military preparedness. He has been criticized because he has proposed only economic aid for Western Europe—not military aid.

If the president now calls for a costly international rearmament program and it goes through along with economic aid, an additional strain will be put on U. S. resources of food, raw materials and manufacturing capacity. Under such increased demand prices are apt to be forced still higher. Last November the president asked for authority to put emergency controls on prices where needed. His opposition said he wanted to set up a police state. His program has got no place. He has been lambasted all over the lot—for wanting to prevent further inflation.

FOREIGN POLICY UNDER FIRE
The president is also taking a shellacking on foreign policy, particularly on Palestine. There are plenty of reasons why the original Palestine policy should not have been adopted. Partition has never worked. It took guts to admit this policy wasn't working and that a mistake had been made. But is there any reason why a foreign policy shouldn't be abandoned if it isn't working?

While the Marshall Plan was criticized because it asked for too much aid, Truman's China policy was criticized because it didn't ask for enough.

There has admittedly been some confusion on just what American policy towards China has been or is. When General Marshall went to China as ambassador, it was to work for a coalition of Nationalists and Communists. When he came back as secretary of state it was with the feeling that coalition wouldn't work.

This position has now been clarified by statements from the President and Secretary Marshall. The U. S. does not favor the inclusion of Communists in the Chinese government. Whether they are included is for the Chinese government to decide.

All these shifts—if that's what they are—are criticized as the vacillating Truman foreign policy. But what is a man to do if he has made a mistake? Keep on making it? Or admit that he has been wrong and then try something different?

Harry Truman has his faults, as who hasn't? But when you add up the things for which he is now criticized the most, it's a little difficult to see how he deserves all the particular punishment now being heaped upon him.

The Danger of Greediness

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

JOHN L. LEWIS—John Lewel-Lewis was born in Lucas, Iowa, on Feb. 12, 1880, the son of a Welsh immigrant. He and his brothers went to work in the mines, and thereafter his life was intimately interwoven with the miners' union.

Today steel production is curtailed and railroad passenger service is reduced, because John L. and his miners will not arbitrate a dispute.

Lewis is asking the mine operators to establish pensions for the miners, and in letters to the unions charged that the operators had "dishonored" their contracts by not agreeing with Lewis. The unions agreed and 400,000 miners went on strike earlier this month.

This created a "national emergency" and a presidential board of inquiry summoned Lewis to appear with the mine operators to determine a way of ending the soft coal strike. More accustomed to giving orders than to taking them, Lewis wouldn't appear until ordered by a court summons.

THE ORATOR—Lewis, the son of the Welsh immigrant, prides himself on his oratory. This creeps into even his written text, and appears in his refusal to appear before the board of inquiry.

"My disinclination to attend falls substantially into two categories," Lewis thundered. He speaks of the "purview of the oppressive statute," of "cavilings on the bar and bench," of "their attempts to explicate this infamous enactment."

Other Lewisisms in this same paper include "inception of this imbroglio," and a charge that one member of the board "is inherently incapable of determining the distinction between fact and scruple."

Lewis always is quotable and strives for the epigrammatic and the unusual.

GRANDSTAND—While Lewis is issuing super-charged defiance to government officials and reveling in the glory of the photographer's flash bulbs, the nation can scrape the bottom of its coal bin. Lewis doesn't care, because it gives him an opportunity to hold the center of the national stage.

It also gives him an opportunity to prove his worth to the miners. This should not be overlooked, for while the miners' union has been good to Lewis, he has done much to assist them and improve their lot in the more than 40 years he has crusaded for them.

RISE TO POWER—Lewis' first distinction in union circles came in 1909 when he was elected legislative agent of the United Mine Workers. Two years later he became a general field agent for the AFL but resigned in 1917 to become statistical agent of the UMW.

In October of that year he was selected vice president of the organization, and was advanced to the presidency in 1920.

One of his earliest appearances on the national scene was in 1919 leading a strike of 600,000 miners over wage and working conditions. The federal government stopped it, called the strike a national menace and obtained a court injunction.

Lewis was given 72 hours to settle the strike; he did it in 24 hours, announcing the union decision on the morning of Armistice Day in these words:

"Gentlemen, we will obey the mandate of the court. We do so

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Robert Moll has returned to Appleton, Wis., where he is a student in Lawrence college, after spending the spring vacation here.

Escanaba—Mrs. Carl Wicklund has returned from Green Bay where she was a surgical patient in Bellin Memorial hospital.

Manistique—Robert Sowash, a former superintendent of the Manistique nursery, now located at Cass Lake, Minn., is spending several days visiting friends here.

Manistique—Wallace Fagan has left to resume his studies at Michigan State College after spending the spring vacation here with his parents.

Gladstone—Arlon Long has left for Minneapolis to visit his father Marion Long, who is a patient in Eitel hospital.

Twenty Years Ago
Manistique—Miss Ada and Richard Mueller have left for Alma, Mich., where they are employed after spending several days here with their parents.

Gladstone—Miss Louise Mann, a student at Milwaukee State Teachers college, is visiting her parents, Supt. and Mrs. A. H. Mann.

Gladstone—Elliott Germaine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Germaine, has accepted a position with the Manistique Pioneer Tribune.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Charlebois are the parents of a daughter born April 3.

It is idle to think that a Europe left to its own efforts in these serious problems of recovery would remain open to American business in the same way that we have known it in the past.

Secretary of State Marshall, under protest, We are Americans. We cannot fight our government."

President Wilson publicly commended him for this action, citing him as a man of honor and a patriotic citizen.

Since then John L. Lewis has won many victories for his miners, but to the American people his name has become a symbol of ruthless power.

THE TESTS—Lewis has always insisted that he never defies the government. Yet Lewis in 1946 defied the federal government in declaring that he was terminating the union contract with the government-operated mines during a strike emergency.

He defied the federal court, was fined for contempt of court, and then the supreme court called him "a serious threat" to constitutional government.

Lewis most of all fears loss of prestige among his miners. They are the foundation of his power. If he loses their support, he loses everything.

Only fear of losing his control of the UMW decided Lewis to cancel a coal strike in 1943 just a few minutes before President Roosevelt went on the air with a broadcast to the miners. And in 1946 Lewis cancelled another strike only a short time before a scheduled radio appeal by President Truman to the miners over the head of their union chief.

STRANGLE HOLD—The power of Lewis as a labor leader is so great that he can cause a virtual paralysis of the nation's economy by ordering a stoppage of coal mining. The 400,000 members of the UMW follow his leadership loyally, because they have received wage increases and many other benefits in return. At one time the UMW treasury was reported as totalling $13,500,000.

Today, at the age of 68 Lewis is still loud, defiant—and the greatest single threat to the economic security of our country. He has served his union well, but at terrific cost to the nation as a whole.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and A. P. Giannini, the big California banker, held a super-secret dinner in Palm Beach, Fla., recently. They hired a private room of a small Italian restaurant for the confab—probably to discuss the date Snyder will resign as secretary of the treasury and join the Giannini bank. . . . Friends of Jim Farley say he would no longer be satisfied with No. 2 place on the Democratic ticket, is now

The report isn't true. . . . Senator "Pass-the-Biscuits Pappy" O'Daniel has dropped to an all-time low in Texas popularity according to recent polls. Only 7 per cent of Texas voters are for him. Ex-Governor Coke Stevenson and Congressman Lyndon Johnson, the latter not yet an announced candidate for the Senate, run first in popularity.

LIFTING THE IRON CURTAIN
Yesterday I suggested that Secretary Marshall might make one last, straight-from-the-shoulder Sermon-on-the-Mount appeal to Russia that if it means what it says about peace it should raise the iron curtain and let the American and Russian people get acquainted. If that appeal failed then there wouldn't be any argument about going ahead with rearmament.

On top of this idea I have been trying to figure out just what individual citizens could do to win friends both behind and on the rim of the iron curtain. For if you can win friends among people you make it awfully hard for dictators to start war. That's one big reason dictators keep their people in ignorance—so as to make it easy to start war.

Of course, General Marshall is probably the only man who could make a worldwide appeal to the Russian people—and to others around the iron curtain. But quite a few patriotic Americans have been doing more than their part in sending democracy messages to Italy. Walter Lemmon of World Wide Broadcasting has been doing a whale of a job beaming radio messages to Italy. Mrs. Francesc Lodge, wife of the Connecticut congressman, has worked night and day translating these messages, and scores of people have cooperated.

In a democracy you don't leave everything to the government. In a democracy, in fact, the people are usually ahead of their government.

So perhaps individual citizens could amplify this technique of winning friends. Perhaps via the radio we could get the people of Russia and other countries talking—not about Miss Hush or the Walking Man, but about peace and democracy.

WRIST WATCHES AND DEMOCRACY
When Russian troops got into Berlin, they were dazzled even by Hitler's disrupted and shoddy civilization. They bought wrist watches by the bushel. They piled horsecarriage full of all sorts of material things. This was a new world. They never knew such things existed. They had heard only Moscow's propaganda that Communism produced the best of all things and for the first time they began to have their doubts.

That's why there have been so many Red army desertions in occupied Europe.

MA'S TRAINING WASN'T SO BAD

Psychiatrist Couldn't Do Better

BY ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—We have finally run full cycle on the psychiatric approach to parenthood. It says here the baby knows more about his care and feeding than his ma does, and the old lady had better watch her step or else.

A Dr. Benjamin Spock, writing for the American Medical Association's Journal, warns us direly that too rigid a diet and toilet schedule can do all sorts of things to the tot's emotional development. He says that after the first year mother better start adjusting her maternal approach to junior's personality, and that over all, baby is a better judge than his mama or medico of how much he needs to eat.

This is news to me. I've spent the last 30 years or so under the impression that mothers were created for the purpose of keeping an eye on Buster-boy until he got big enough to smoke cornsilk and pull pigstails.

Bob Ate Lipstick
I remember I had some definite ideas about diet at three, which that heartless, cruel monster, mama, rudely trampled down, making me thereby a hopeless neurotic. I used to think that you could swallow and receive nutrition from nails, sewing scissors, screws, nuts, bolts, coins, cigarette butts and lipsticks. I was especially fond of chewing lipsticks, because they were colored so nice and went down so easy. But that fiend in skirts wouldn't pamper me. She was in there holding out for milk and spinach.

We went to the mat again, later, when I was an elderly statesman of six. I had found, after some tedious research, the perfect diet for little boys. This was simple fare, consisting of ice cream three times a day, on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. On Sundays it was to be served six times a day, as payment for my sacrifice in going to Sunday school. For a variant, there were other staples, such as pie, cake, cookies, candy, unripe peaches, pears and apples.

That benighted relic of the dark ages, mother, kept on practicing her medieval tortures on me. Every time I turned up with the bellyache, due to scientific miscalculations in the laboratory, she got out a bottle of castor oil as big as a fire extinguisher. She poured out a neat half-tumbler, and sat there—just like Mussolini—until I tossed it off. No chaser, either.

It was along about this time that I began to bust out with complexes. I began to associate cause with effect. For instance, I learned that if I didn't eat the spinach and the peas and the chicken and the potatoes, I didn't get to eat the ice cream either. I learned that if I consumed a mess of green plums, I was dead sure to have a slug of castor oil as a demi-tasse.

Still Feels Haircut
Oh, I was a psychic wreck. I can tell you. I sensed, automatically, that if I brought the billy-goat into the parlor when the preacher came to call, a certain little boy was a cinch to have his pants peeled, and a long, lean, little lady's hair comb applied to his bare bottom. This was a frightful indignity to practice on a mature, diction-and-tree climber, but that horrid woman was heartless. I still have fine-tooth marks on my caboose.

By the time I was 10 I was a seething cauldron of complexes, a mass of tangled emotions, a phenomenon of frustration. If I told a lie I knew it meant two afternoons in bed, while the other kids played baseball. Shy, tortured as I was, I said "sir" and "ma'am" to my elders. I learned that kicking schoolteachers was taboo; playing hockey was frowned on; that little boys who made bad grades were not allowed to go hunting on Saturdays.

By that time my diet was so completely hedged by discipline and wicked regimentation that I had excellent teeth, stood close to six foot tall, weighed 150 pounds and could lick any kid in the class. I forgot to mention that I enjoyed fighting. Because of mama's cruelty, she caught me running away from a kid smaller than I was, once, and laid a lath on my fanny until I went back and whipped him in a sheer panicky effort to avoid a worse licking from Mrs. Demon.

You can see how mother's callous, sadistic influence has wrecked my life. I have never been in jail for anything serious and have never consulted a psychiatrist. I eat everything except eggplant, hold my liquor reasonably well, pay most of my bills and have been married 10 years to the same woman. I'm a psychic seer, and I blame it all on mama.

Post-War Germany Is Shocking Mass of Rubble and Towering Walls, Says Mrs. Kasischke

MRS. KASISCHKE

“One of the most shocking impressions gained in post-war Germany is that of utter devastation revealed in massive piles of rubble and towering walls, which once housed cultural and progressive ventures in world-renowned architecture,” says Mrs. Richard Kasischke.

Mrs. Kasischke, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Christie, of this city, has just returned, with her daughter Kathleen, from a 21-month residence in Berlin, where her husband is an Associated Press correspondent.

Mrs. Kasischke and her daughter, who is now ill with a cold and the after-effects of sea-sickness, returned to the United States because Mr. Kasischke will be transferred soon to an assignment where wives and children are not allowed.

The Kasischke family lived in the American zone in Berlin, in a 13-room stone house, owned by a Dr. Stenger, who lost his life during a World War II bombing. The house was furnished by the Army and was a typical German home, with living and dining room overlooking a garden in the rear. Most German homes have the kitchen facing the street entrance, said Mrs. Kasischke, a slender, charming person.

Recreation Is Problem

“One of the biggest difficulties encountered by Americans in Germany is that of providing recreation for children. Most American families live some distance from each other, and it is difficult to arrange for children to be together, except for weekends when the children visit at each other's homes. Kathleen was quite lonely in Germany and really anticipated returning to the United States.”

“In Berlin, no one goes to town on a windy day,” explained the press wife, “for though demolition crews work every day, many tall, unstable remains of large buildings still tower high.” Mrs. Kasischke remarked however, that transportation in Germany was no problem, for the Army has worked things out very well. Travel is limited. To journey outside Berlin, it is necessary to obtain a military pass. The Kasischkes did make some trips, though, one of the longest being a summer trip into Bavaria and neighboring countries.

Food, fuel and other necessities of living are provided by the military. Most Americans living and working abroad are better off in the American zone of Germany than in other countries, said Mrs. Kasischke. She thinks most Germans prefer to live in the American zone than in the Russian occupied area, but not all of them are free to express their likes and dislikes.

While in Germany the Kasischkes were attended by a servant provided by authorities, and by numerous Germans who were happy to work, even for their food. “Most Germans have a hungry look on their face, but they are not starving. Some may have resentment for Americans, because their cities were destroyed, but not many venture to comment,” explained Mrs. Kasischke.

American School
Prior to his assignment in Berlin, Kasischke worked two years in England, during World War II. His home is in St. Joseph, Mich., and before his foreign assignments he worked in the Detroit AP office. Mrs. Kasischke and Kathleen flew to Berlin July 31, 1946, and returned aboard the Queen Mary, which they met via plane to London.

Kathleen attended the American school with 400 U. S. children now in Berlin. Classes are taught by American teachers who must have a master's degree in education to qualify for the position. The German language and some art classes are under German instructors. Classes for this year were not opened until November because of a polio epidemic.

“Americans living in Germany are not afraid and get along well with the most part,” said Mrs. Kasischke, who reads and understands German. Mrs. Kasischke found her knowledge of the language invaluable and a life-saver when telling German servants what

Miss Margaret Flanders Wed to Charles Schaller

Spring flowers, white lilies, jonquils and snapdragons, and the lighted candles graced the altars of St. Joseph's church for the wedding this morning of Margaret Estelle Flanders, daughter of Mrs. G. Z. Flanders of 208 First avenue south, and Charles Edward Schaller, son of the senior Charles F. Schallers of 119 Third street, Neenah, Wis.

The vows were spoken before Rev. Fr. Alphonse Wilberding, O. F. M., at a 9 o'clock nuptial high mass. The customary bridal procession and recessional were used and “I Love You Truly” was a solo of the service.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Harry Merriam, of Waukegan, Ill., was preceded to the altar by her sister, Patricia Jean, who was maid of honor, and Kathleen Schaller and Mary Schaller, of Neenah, sisters of the bridegroom, who were bridesmaids. LaVerne Blank, James Austin and Morgan Jorgenson, of Neenah, childhood friends of the bridegroom, were groomsmen and ushering were John Flanders and James O'Mara, of Fond Du Lac.

Gown of White Satin
Traditional white slipper satin fashioned the bride's gown, which was styled with a tight bodice, long, close-fitting sleeves coming to points over the wrist and a full skirt. Old English lace inserts at the neckline and tiny seed buttons down the back distinguished the bodice. Her tiered veil of illusion was fingertip length. She carried a bridal bouquet of white carnations and snapdragons and red and white sweetpeas, with white knotted satin streamers.

The maid of honor wore orchid taffeta, made with a snug bodice and bustle skirt, and fingertip gloves of the same material and the bridesmaids wore identical gowns of salmon and canary yellow taffeta. The attendants carried small French bouquets of red, white and yellow snapdragons, yellow jonquils and pink carnations with pink and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Flanders, who watched her daughter's wedding from a front pew of the church, wore a black ensemble with blue grey bolero jacket, black accessories and a blue grey sailor hat, and pinned to her shoulder was a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Schaller wore a black dressmaker suit with black accessories and a white hat with black trim, and a like corsage completed her costume.

Breakfast and Reception
A wedding breakfast was served at the House of Lundington and a reception held from 2 to 5 o'clock at the Flanders home. Snapdragons of the shades of the bridal gowns, with tiered white tapers and the tiered wedding cake formed the decorative appointments.

The couple, following a tour of the western states, will live in Milwaukee.

The bride is a graduate of Marquette university and is a member of Kappa Beta Gamma, social sorority, and Sigma Alpha. Her husband is attending Marquette university law school.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. W. K. Austin and Miss Nellie Hubbard of Neenah and Miss Esther Leedle, of Waukegan, Ill.

Mel Magnuson Home Scene Of Big Crap Game

Green Bay.—Official belief grew today that the masked gunmen who staged the $18,000 crap game holdup here late Monday night were the same who took $3,000 and $7,000 in a gambling house raid in Milwaukee last Oct. 27.

The Milwaukee holdup took place in a room at 612 N. 5th St. Dist. Atty. J. Norman Basten today confirmed the 48 Mel Magnuson hour old rumors of a crap game holdup. He said the 13 victims, including two women, he had questioned agreed it occurred at the home of Mel Magnuson, a Town of Preble contractor, who lives just outside Green Bay.

"Going for Some Time" The men indicated the game had been going on "every Monday night for some time," but not in the same place.

FORMERLY OF ESCANABA Mel Magnuson, 39, is a former Escanaba resident and went to Green Bay after he returned from service in World War II. While in Escanaba, he resided at 214 Stephenson avenue.

Five or six men armed with a submachine gun, shotguns and a pistol lined up 15 men and three women. After ordering the men to remove their trousers, they scooped up the cash in the game, rifled the clothing and took jewelry from the men and women. They fled with the trousers and slashed tires on cars parked outside to forestall pursuit.

Basten discounted reports of $18,000 loot. He said reports from those he had questioned indicated that "probably not more than $3,000 to $4,000 was taken."

Tie Men With Diapers Basten said he learned the gunmen had stayed in the house an hour systematically assembling their loot. When they got ready to go, they tore the Magnuson baby's diapers into strips and bound the men back to back.

The women told Basten, "The gunmen were dark and probably Italian. They were very nice to us."

Basten said, "I think we're getting some place in this investigation."

Withhold Victims' Names While the clamor grew loud among Green Bay's business men for the district attorney to make public the names of the victims to clear those who weren't there, Basten persisted in his refusal to release any names.

He said he would withhold names until he was ready to proceed in court against the gunmen. He accepted the offer of Green Bay Police Chief Henry Bero to aid in the investigation.

He declined comment on reports that a local man had tipped off the gunmen and had come into the gambling room a few minutes before the bandits broke in.

Two Veteran Lake Skippers Killed

Marquette, Mich.—Two veteran lake captains, both skippers on Cleveland-Cliffs ore carriers, will visit Marquette no more.

They are Captain George Russell and Captain Douglas Jackson, who, enroute to Cleveland from Buffalo to take charge of their vessels for the 1948 season, were killed when their car was struck by a truck. Also fatally hurt were Mrs. Jackson, and two nieces of one of the captains were seriously hurt and are in a hospital.

Captain Russell was in command of the J. H. Sheadle last year and Captain Jackson was skipper of the Michigan. He was transferred to that ship from the Joliet. Both had frequently brought their vessels to the Lake Superior and Ishpeming ore dock to take on ore cargoes.

Hospital

Bill Koppes, 812 Ludington street, who is confined to St. Francis hospital as the result of injuries received in a fall, is recovering from the injuries, but is suffering from a recurrence of a bronchial ailment, and will be hospitalized for at least another ten days or two weeks.

Frank Boyle, 317 South 14th street, was admitted to St. Francis hospital Friday night, suffering from pneumonia.

INLAND MAKES NEW OFFER

Local To Consider New Proposal Sunday

Settlement of the labor dispute which has caused a work stoppage of three months' duration of the Inland Lime and Stone Company plant at Port Inland, depends upon what action is taken Sunday night by the local union, according to announcement Thursday afternoon by A. W. Heitman, general superintendent for the company.

Local 377 of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, CIO, will vote upon a new proposal made this week which contains, in addition to the 7 1/2 percent general wage increase previously offered, a shift differential of 4 cents per hour for the afternoon shift and 6 cents per hour for the night shift.

Mr. Heitman states that the company had made this offer as a final attempt to compromise the dispute and permit the continuation of operations at Port Inland.

Soprtsmen's Club Acts To Form A Permanent Unit

The Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's Association, tentatively organized at a meeting Thursday a week ago, assumed the status of a full fledged concern Thursday evening when directors met, elected officers and took steps to frame constitution and by laws.

At the meeting, held in the club rooms of the fire department, Dr. E. D. Branyan was elected president; Dr. C. F. Anderson, vice president; William Norton, Secretary. A committee of three, consisting of G. Leslie Bouschor, Frank Richards and Wallace Calvert, was named to draw up by-laws.

It was decided that annual membership dues shall be $1 each and that an extensive solicitation of memberships be made in the near future. It will be emphasized that membership will be open to those who like to hunt and fish but to those who love outdoor life and the beauties and recreational advantages of Schoolcraft county are preserved.

HOT ELECTION IS INDICATED

Seven Seek Three Posts On City Council

Manistique's bi-annual city election will, in all probability, live up to past tradition with plenty of rivalry to draw out the votes.

Up for election in Monday's battle of votes will be seven candidates seeking to fill three positions on the city council. These are Walter Burns, the only incumbent seeking re-election; Lewis Crosby, a former member of the council, and Ernest Johnson, Otto K. Schubring, Norman Oliver and Edward J. Toyra, newcomers in city politics.

Also involved in a battle of pros and cons is the question of whether raw milk and cream shall be sold in Manistique after July 1. The proposition involves act 291 which would prohibit the sale or distribution of raw milk, raw cream or other raw milk products in Manistique or other Michigan municipalities after July 1, 1948.

The polls will be open Monday from 7 a. m. until 8 p. m.

There will be one change in polling places. In the third ward, the justice court room on North Cedar street, at the rear of the city hall property, will be used instead of the city hall.

DARTBALL MEN FINISH SEASON

Dine And Elect Officers Thursday Evening

Completion of an unusually successful year of activity was marked by the Manistique Dartball League with a banquet followed by a championship playoff Thursday evening.

As a result of the playoff between the Firemen and the Lutheran No. 2 teams, the Firemen are undisputed winners of the league championship and holders of the trophy which last year was held by the Presbyterian 1 team.

The Firemen's Dartball team is looking for new worlds to conquer. They are anxious to test their skill with successful teams in either Escanaba or Gladstone and will play them wherever it is agreeable with both parties concerned. Anyone interested should get in touch with Elmer Boal, Manistique Fire Chief.

At the banquet served at the parlor of the First Methodist church, the Rev. Paul Sobel presided as toastmaster. A talk was given by the Rev. G. A. Herbert and a musical saw solo was presented by Vic Carlson. T. H. Reque presented the Firemen with the trophy.

Election of officers followed the program at which Clarence Peterson was elected president, Everett Anderson, recording secretary; Cecil Moore, treasurer and Ken Jones, publicity director.

The playoff, held at the new high school gym, went true to form. The Firemen's team, made up of members of the Manistique Volunteer Fire Department won the first two games of the scheduled three to cop the title. Throughout the entire session the Firemen have lead all the teams in the two leagues, winding up the season with 39 wins and 11 losses.

In Thursday night's games, the playing of Elmer Boal and John Blomquist was particularly sensational. Time after time Boal would connect with a first base shot to be followed by Blomquist with a three bagger. The Firemen won the first game by a score of 2 to 3; and the second game by a score of 6 to 10.

Important Notice to the Voters of The City of Manistique

A principle long dear to the hearts of our people is being threatened with nullification, or destruction, namely, the right of Manistique Consumers to buy or acquire wholesome Raw Milk when and where they please in the City of Manistique.

In 1947 the Michigan State Legislature passed act No. 291, Public Acts of 1947 (Senate Enrolled Act 141). This Act, (which many people think should have been submitted to a statewide referendum,) specifies that on and after July 1st, 1948, only pasteurized milk and its products may be sold or delivered in the City of Manistique, UNLESS THE VOTERS OF SAID CITY BY MAJORITY VOTE ELECT TO TAKE THE CITY OF MANISTIQUE OUT OF THE APPLICATION OF THE PROVISIONS OF SAID ACT.

A large number of Manistique people believe that raw milk from healthy cows, and produced under sanitary conditions as prescribed by law, is the most wholesome and economical, and provides for better health of children.

It is a fact that there is available in Schoolcraft County an ample supply of wholesome raw milk, which complies in all ways with the State Health Code. To deny raw milk consumers the right to make their own choice of milk would be a grave injustice and constitute a serious threat to raw milk producers in Schoolcraft County. Public health records show that the raw milk now being distributed in Manistique has a higher butter fat (cream) content, and that the bacterial count is well below the maximum allowed by the Milk Code of the City of Manistique. So there is no valid reason why raw milk consumers in Manistique should be denied the right of choice in their purchase of milk which complies with all legal requirements.

If you believe in fair play and the principle of "Live and let Live", on April 5th vote YES on your milk ballot. By voting YES, your interests, as well as those of the great majority of your fellow townsmen will be guarded against lower quality and higher prices for milk. Vote YES. Thank you.

Tough Fight, But He Made It Home, Ma!

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
New York, April 3 (AP)—When the Oklahoma U. baseball team played Texas the other day, Big Bill Waters, 235-pound Oklahoma pitcher, "golfed" onto the Clark Cliffs in the Texas outfield for a home run. . . . Bill, unused to base running, misunderstood the coaches' signals at nearly every base, hesitating and diving back at nearly every base. . . . He finally made it and collapsed on the bench, although the Texans claimed he failed to touch home. . . . and Jack Bauer wouldn't even offer Bill any sympathy for all that effort. Jack commented: "He looked like a bull suddenly turned into an arena, loping aimlessly here and there looking for the matador."

Bright College Years
For the benefit of folks who still think education is wasted on a ball player, it might not be amiss to point out that some of this spring's brightest rookie prospects not only went to college but stayed around long enough to wear a crew haircut without embarrassment. . . . The Braves publicized Alvin Dark, for instance, had only one year to go when he quit Louisiana State; Neil Berry, who may be the Tigers' shortstop, is a Western Michigan college product (with considerable seasoning); the Red Sox' Neil Sheridan came from the U. of San Francisco and Big Ted Kluszewski of the Reds from Indiana U. . . . In addition, recent notices have been going to Robin Roberts (Michigan State and Phillies), Dick Manville (Harvard, Yale and Braves), Walt Dropo (Connecticut and Red Sox) and Lloyd Merriman (Stanford and Reds) as boys who need only another year of experience before they'll hit the big time.

Enough Is Enough
After covering the Kentucky Intercollegiate, Southeastern Conference, National Invitation, National Collegiate and Olympic basketball tournaments, Buck (photo finish) Weaver of the Louisville Times sent this word back to Kentucky: "I'm going out to Jamaica and put my ear right on the ground beside the rail so I can hear those hoofs pounding; then I'm going to Ebbsfield farm and have the grandkeeper (an ex-Louisvillian) hit a few fungoes so I can hear the crack of a bat against a ball. . . . When last seen, Buck was trying to get his ear out of the Jamaica mud."

Cleaning the Cuff
A full brother to ailed—a colt by Bull Lea-Armful—was foaled at Calumet farm recently. . . . Bud Browning, who'll be Olympic basketball coach, is planning to use his five Bartlesville Oilers and his five Kentucky players as units in the Olympic games. Since he can only have ten players in uniform for any one game, it looks tough for the others. . . . Rex Enright, South Carolina football coach, has been troubled with an eye infection lately. . . . Maybe he'd been looking too hard for players that hadn't already been lined up by other coaches. . . . Harold Pauley, one of the Los Angeles Rams' owners, went all the way to Hawaii to say that Clark Shaughnessy is coming up with a new version of the "T" next fall. That's how far Clark will be ahead of his rivals if he really finds a new version.

NCAA Fight Meet Is Olympic Trial

Madison, Wis., April 3 (AP)—Twin swimmers are at stake tonight in the NCAA boxing tournament finals. The eight champions, to be crowned in the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse ring, will win both top collegiate boxing honors and automatic shots at U. S. Olympic team berths.
The 11th annual tournament, which in two days has attracted 34,800 fans, has been designated as a regional qualifying test by the Olympic boxing committee. Final tryouts for this country's midweight will be held June 28-29 at Boston.

NATIONAL HANDBALL
Chicago, April 3 (AP)—A record entry of 54 doubles teams, plus 91 players in the singles bracket—only four short of a new mark—will compete in the National A. U. handball tournament starting tomorrow.

LOOKS THE PART—Jannette Burr flashes a toothy smile after winning the Harriman Cup and national downhill ski championship at Sun Valley, Idaho. The Seattle miss set a new course record for women speeding two miles in 1:54.1, which is better than 60 miles an hour. Georgetown Thistle of France formerly held the mark.

TIGES JUMP ON PELICANS, 12-3

Varsity Lineup Doesn't Look Too Bad

New Orleans, April 3 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers tried out their probable "varsity lineup" last night and it proved more than adequate against the Southern Association New Orleans Pelicans. With rookies Johnny Lipon and George Vico in the hotly-contested shortstop and first base positions, the Bengals pounded out a 12 to 3 victory over the outclassed Pelicans. The two teams met again tonight in the second of a three-game series.

Lipon and Vico each contributed a safe blow to the Tigers' 15-hit attack on three New Orleans pitchers.
Top hitters however were regular Third Baseman George Kell and Hoot Evers, who seems to have nailed down the center field starting post. Evers socked out a triple and two singles, and Kell had three one-base safeties.
Other Tiger regulars who lined up behind winning Pitcher Freddie Hutchinson were Eddie Mauer at second base, Vic Wertz in right field, Dick Wakefield in left and Bob Swift in catcher's spot.
Hutch breezed through six innings, allowing but one of the Southerners' three runs before turning pitching chores over to Hal White.

TOO LITTLE, TOO LATE
New Orleans, April 3 (AP)—Eddie Lake may have held out too long this spring.
With two promising young shortstops on hand in Johnny Lipon and Neil Berry, the Detroit Tigers today appeared ready to sell, trade or release the little veteran infielder who missed several weeks of spring training in a futile pay argument.
Lake objected to taking a salary cut from $15,000 to $12,000.
Right now his condition is so far behind that of Lipon and Berry that he hardly has a look-in in Manager Steve O'Neill's plans.

Gretchen Better In Free Skating

Colorado Springs, Colo., April 3 (AP)—Gretchen Merrill's chances of retaining her national figure skating championship looked brighter today after she had whirled through her free skating routine.

The Boston blonde trailed Yvonne Sherman, of New York, in the compulsory school figures, and must defeat her in free skating tonight to take her sixth senior ladies crown.
The compulsory figures count 60 percent toward the title. Scores were not announced, but it was reported unofficially that Miss Sherman won the required figures by less than a point.
As the two did their exhibition free skating last night, Miss Merrill appeared to be the better of the two. Tonight's performance, when the judges are giving points, may be a different story, however.

BRIESKE WITH GIANTS
New York, April 3 (AP)—Jim Brieske, center and kicking specialist from the University of Michigan, has signed with the New York Giants, President John V. Mara of the National Football League club announced today. In four years with the Wolverines, the 24-year-old Brieske kicked 126 points after touchdowns. He is six feet, two inches tall, weighs 205 pounds and comes from Harbor Beach, Mich.

Steals 892 Bases
Ty Cobb's total stolen bases in league games from 1905 through 1928 totaled 892.

MIKE'S, K-C 5'S TRIUMPH

Looks Like Rough Night For Escanabans

Escanaba Mike's Bar, Class B champion of the Hermansville Gold Medal tournament, slipped past Gladstone Legion without any difficulty in the opening round of the Escanaba invitation basketball tournament at the junior high last night, but it will face a power-house in the form of the Marquette K-C in its semifinal clash tonight.

Bob Dufour and Don Scott set the scoring pace in Mike's 46-36 victory over Gladstone. Dufour registering 16 points on four field goals and eight out of 10 free throws and Scott coming through with five field goals and a brace of charity tosses. Young led Gladstone with 10 points.

For the first half, it was a bang-up ball game, each quintet tallying nine points in each of the first two quarters, but the Escanabans pulled away in the last half to win going away.

Meanwhile, Marquette posted a convincing 74-25 victory over Trenary to stamp itself definitely as a tourney favorite. Trenary was aggressive but couldn't cope with the smooth-passing, high-scoring Marquette aggregation.

Tom St. Germain, one of the mainstays of Northern Michigan College's fast quintet this past season, led the K-Cs with 16 points. He had plenty of help from other Northern Wildcats, Zagelmeier, Jack Reeling and Tom Kirby, each chunking in five field goals.

Marquette led 35-9 at halftime. Summaries:

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

It is highly probable that Escanaba will not be represented in the Rainbow Baseball league this summer.

Judging by the lack of enthusiasm shown to date, players of last season just aren't interested. They'd rather play softball, or something.

Players were conspicuous by their absence at an organization meeting here this week, and as a result Jack Beck and Don Dufresne are going to the Rainbow organization session in Gladstone tomorrow with a sad story instead of a player roster list and a $50 franchise fee.

Ten of the 12 teams in the 1947 race were present at the first session in Munising. The absentees were Escanaba and Negaunee, the 1947 champion. Representatives there were Stewart Koski, Republic; William Koski, Humboldt; L. W. Brumm and Bob Alexander, Marquette; Ted Mattson, Ishpeming; Art Maki, Gwinn; Mason Rhoads, Manistique; Bernard Aken, Munising; Onen Posio, Chatham; Art Saari, Trenary, and George Mathison, Gladstone. Mathison is the league's secretary.

It will be determined at the meeting at the Legion hall in Gladstone tomorrow whether the league will operate on a southern and northern division basis or just play it straight. Last season, there were six in each division with Manistique copping the south title and Negaunee the north pennant. Orville Wieland, Munising, heads the league.

Meanwhile in Escanaba the Upper Peninsula Softball association heads will be together talking over plans for the fast-approaching season. The session will be held in the city hall council chambers here at 1:30 fast time tomorrow afternoon.

Tournament sites and dates in six Upper Peninsula districts will be set, commissioners appointed and officers elected.

Here's the data on Upper Peninsula high school spring sport activity: Regional track and field meets Saturday, May 22, in Marquette. Menominee, Baraga and Ironwood with the U. P. finals in Escanaba Saturday, May 29; 1948 U. P. final tennis tournament at Marquette Friday and Saturday, June 4, 5; U. P. final golf tourney at Crystal Falls Saturday, June 5. Three classes, B, C and D-E, will compete again in the regional and final track events. Two classes, B and C-D-E, will compete in tennis and golf in the finals tournaments only. There will be no regional competition in golf and tennis.

Escanaba thinclads already have started working out indoors, waiting for a bit more balmy weather before braving the outdoors. Menominee again is expected to put a strong track team afield in defense of its U. P. championship but will get plenty of competition from Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Ironwood and the Sault.

Joe Verdeur Is Hit Of AAU Swim Meet; Buckeyes Take Lead

New Haven, Conn., April 3 (AP)—As expected, Joe Verdeur of Philadelphia, America's top-ranking Olympic hope in swimming, today dominates the National A. U. men's indoor championships in Yale's luxurious pool.
With five events left to wind up the three-day meet, Verdeur appears to have the "best swimmer of the meet" honor all sealed up.
Those who saw the slender, iron-chested Verdeur smash his own collection of world and American breaststroke records last night are hailing him as the "Miracle Man of the Tank."
The 22-year-old La Salle College sophomore topped off three leg preliminary races in the afternoon by taking the 220-yard breaststroke time in 2:30.5.
Then, in his fifth race he went on to win a second individual crown—the 300-yard medley.
There is no world record time for the 220-yard breaststroke. There is, however, for 200-meters—the listed mark is 2:35, and the applied-for clocking is 2:32, both set by Joe. What he did last night was swim the slightly longer 220-yards under the 200-meter international standard.
Elipsed by Verdeur's spectacular show were successful defense of their titles by Bill Smith—220-yard freestyle, and Miller Anderson, one-meter dive. Both represent Ohio State.
Their performances helped the Buckeyes take a handsome lead for the team title with 27 points. Brighton of Atlantic City, mainly Verdeur, and Michigan State were tied for second with 13, followed by the New Haven Swim club, 10; the University of Michigan, Big Nine and National Collegiate champs, 9, and the New York Athletic club, 8.

KINER FINDS RANGE
Tucson, Ariz., April 3 (AP)—Big Ralph Kiner, after a slow start, is finding the home run range for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Kiner banged a homer in the eighth inning yesterday to break up a 7-7 tie against the New York Giants. Ed Stevens followed with a two-run fourmaster to clinch the game.

SILVER FOXES, HARRY'S WIN

Nahma Broncho Bubble Bursts; 'Stique Out

Hermansville gained a measure of revenge for earlier losses by stopping Manistique Merchants, 49-34, and Nahma's Bronchos failed to live up to advance notices in losing a 61-36 tussle to the fast Munising Oilers in opening upper bracket games in the Escanaba invitation basketball tournament last night.

Hermansville and Munising will meet in the semifinals at 7 this evening and the winner will play the Marquette-Escanaba winner in the finals at 9:30 tonight.

As far as Nahma's aggregation was concerned, it was simply a case of the much-heralded Western Michigan college talent failing to make an appearance, and the weakened Bronchos were handicapped by lack of height. Suffice it to say, however, that Harry's Rainbow league champions had the talent to step in for an easy victory.

Babe Anderson, member of Coach C. B. Hedgcock's stellar pre-war Northern Michigan quintet, pumped in nine buckets and a charity toss to cop scoring honors with 19 points. Rousseau hit 13 points and Perron, 11.

Munising led 23-10 at halftime, 37-22 at the end of the third quarter and ran wild in the fourth quarter to register 24 more points.

Hermansville and Manistique started slowly, but the tempo picked up considerably in the last half, with the Foxes having the edge. They led by only 14-9 at halftime but found the mark and tallied 22 points in the third quarter and 13 in the finale.

Steve Machalk topped the scorers with 16 points. Danko led Manistique with 12. Dick Berger collected 11 for second honors on the losing team.

The Hermansville - Munising clash tonight rates as a tossup.

Ann Curtis Loses To Marie Corridon

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 3 (AP)—Marie Corridon and Ann Curtis are slated to renew their swimming rivalry today in the 200-yard team relay event of the AAU Women's National meet.

The two girls, from opposite ends of the country, tangled yesterday in the 100-yard free style, and Miss Corridon upset Miss Curtis and came up with a new AAU indoor record of 59.9 seconds.

Wrestlers of Cornell college in Iowa have not been defeated in 33 consecutive dual meets.

Joe Louis Is Sued For Alienation Of Affection

Chicago, April 3 (AP)—A negro minister asks $500,000 damages from Joe Louis, heavyweight boxing champion, for allegedly stealing the love of his wife, a New York model.

An alienation of affections suit against Louis, 33, and titleholder for nearly 11 years, was filed yesterday by the Rev. Matthew C. Faulkner, 32, year old Baptist minister of Atlanta, Ga.

The suit alleged that Louis, during November, December and January, "by subterfuge, contrivance and design, maliciously" won the affections of Faulkner's wife, Mattie Carrie Faulkner.

Mrs. Faulkner, who is described in the suit as "a beautiful woman," said in New York she is 23 and is employed as a model under her professional name of Carol Drake.

The suit termed the alienation an "illicit affair," and allegedly took place while the Rev. Mr. Faulkner was serving as an army chaplain. He was discharged last March 17.

Louis was charged in the suit with having presented gifts valued at $35,000 to Mrs. Faulkner, including $15,000 in cash, through his agents and representatives. She denied that she ever had received money or gifts from Louis.

The suit said that Mrs. Faulkner and her husband "lived together happily and devotedly, enjoying a mutual warmth of affection for each other until the interference of Louis."

It said the Faulkners, parents of two small children, separated last December. The children are living with Mrs. Faulkner in New York.

Louis, who has been heavyweight champion since he knocked out James J. Braddock in Chicago June 22, 1937, is to defend his title June 23 in New York against Jersey Joe Walcott.

He was married Sept. 24, 1935 to Marva Trotter. They were divorced March 27, 1945, and remarried the next year. They have two children, Jacqueline, 5, and Joe, Jr., 1.

LOUIS DENIES IT
Paris, April 3 (AP)—Joe Louis denied today he had stolen the affections of a Negro minister's wife.

"There's no truth in it," the heavyweight champion said, while eating a noon breakfast in his Paris hotel.

The Rev. Matthew C. Faulkner, 32, Baptist minister of Atlanta, Ga., sued Louis in Chicago yesterday for $500,000. He said the heavyweight champion had stolen the affections of his wife, Mattie, a New York model.

Louis said he had met Mrs. Faulkner several times but had only gone to one party at which she was present.

FIRE FIGHTERS TAKE UP POSTS

Conservation Department Forces Readied

With the state's forest fire combat forces at the highest point in history, conservation department fire officers, lookouts and equipment operators stood ready today to take up their posts in fighting the anticipated epidemic of springtime fires.

The forest fire organization of District 3, comprising Delta, Marquette and the west half of Alger counties, was placed on duty effective April 1, according to John Chriske, district supervisor at the headquarters office in Escanaba.

"Conditions in Delta county are rapidly approaching the point where a fire danger will exist," Chriske said. "Towers in Delta county will be manned, Marquette and Alger counties still have sufficient snow and do not anticipate a fire danger in that area for several weeks."

Last year there were 175 fires in the district, burning a total of 858.8 acres, and causing damages totaling $4,988.20. Eighty-four of the 175 fires occurred in Delta county, 86 were in Marquette county, and five in Alger county.

Fire officers and their locations in the county are as follows: Robert Bezi, Rapid River; Anthony Brackett, Big Bay; Frank Farquhar, Gwinn; Howard Gross, Marquette; William Harwood, Escanaba; A. W. Meyer, Escanaba; Isaac Sepala, Republic; Thomas C. Sleeman, Negaunee.

Equipment operators are Albert P. Severinsen, Escanaba; Russell McLeod, Escanaba river tract; Elmer Voegtline, Gwinn; and Raymond Roberts, Marquette.

BIG PROGRAM DESIGNED TO STOP RUSSIA

for Western Europe at a cost of $5,300,000,000. This is for the first twelve months beginning last Thursday, April 1.

Also included in the measure are (A) $275,000,000 for military supplies to Greece and Turkey, (B) $463,000,000 for aid to China—of which $125,000,000 may be spent for military purposes—and (C) $60,000,000 for the U. N. International Children's Fund.

This bill does not appropriate any money. Congress must do that in another bill.

However, the government can get $1,000,000,000 (B) from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation—to be repaid later—to get the European phase started. An RFC advance of $50,000,000 each also is authorized for China, Greece and Turkey.

The European recovery program sticks close to the formula laid down by Secretary of State Marshall last June 5. He then suggested that the nations of Europe should help each other, with this country providing whatever aid might be needed to fill in the gaps.

Russia rejected the offer and declared war against the plan, but sixteen governments, led by Britain and France, accepted it. They have since begun a number of measures to help themselves including maximum use of their own resources and lowering of trade barriers.

American aid will take two forms. Some of it will be given out-right—probably about two-thirds of the total. The rest will be in loans for permanent reconstruction projects.

Officials have estimated that most of the early ERP shipments will go to Britain and France. Those two countries are due to get nearly half of the initial supplies available under the RFC advance. Italy is expected to get the third largest share, with the Netherlands fourth and Western Germany fifth.

Local Government Institute Will Be Held in Stephenson

An institute for local government will be held at Stephenson on Monday, April 5. Joseph B. Gucky, superintendent of the Stephenson public schools, will be the general chairman. Speakers will include: George Bean, city manager of Pontiac; John Isler, Municipal League; Ann Arthur, Charles Folio, Escanaba, University of Michigan Extension Service; George Gilbert, Edgar L. Grim, department of public instruction; and Jean Worth, editor of the Menominee Herald-Leader.

Arrests Touch Off Strikes in Bombay

Bombay, April 3. (P)—Spreading strikes threatened Bombay today following arrests of Communists which already have touched off two walks outs.

Textile mill workers walked out yesterday and 100 dockyard employees staged a sit-down when news spread that police had begun arresting Communists in Bombay and Poona.

George Kulock, 88, Dies At LaBranche

Death today claimed George Kulock, 88, of LaBranche, at 7:30 a. m. at the home of his grandson, Walter Welch, in LaBranche. Mr. Kulock had been ill for about two weeks.

Born in Poland, Nov. 11, 1859, Mr. Kulock came to the United States with his family in 1900 and settled in Pennsylvania. He moved to LaBranche in 1906 and has resided there for the past 42 years.

He was a member of St. Michael's church, Perronville. Surviving are his wife, and ten grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren. None of the sons and daughters are now living.

The body was taken to the Boyle funeral home in Bark River and will be returned to the Welch home at LaBranche at 10 a. m. Monday.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Tuesday in St. Michael's church, Perronville, with the Rev. Fr. Francis Ginski officiating. Burial will be in the family lot in Holy Cross cemetery, Escanaba.

Court Order Is Asked In Coal Strike

indirect way of ending the walk-out. In this view, he could not actually order the men to return without admitting what he has been denying all along—that a "strike" exists, or, by inference, that he had influenced them to stop work in the first place.

2. Others thought he was mainly interested in building up a case for a courtroom battle if the government goes through with its expected move for an injunction. The letter put him on public record as disavowing responsibility for the stoppage and as telling the miners so.

SIGLER LOSES HIS GRIP ON MICHIGAN GOP

Michigan delegation met in Philadelphia in June for the National convention.

Mrs. Hay, reported to have lost the support of the precinct organization, now was said to have gained back some of that support, and the race was a tight one.

There was talk of a "dark horse" candidate to avoid an open split between the Hooker and Hay factions. The name of Mrs. Lillian Marx, vice-chairman of the Wayne county Republican committee, was mentioned in this role.

Sigler, after taking the initiative in proposing a slate of delegates at large, said late last night that his ideas were only tentative and that the delegates would be free to choose whom they pleased.

Although his initial slate had not included any women, he said he thought now a woman should be on the list.

Sigler said he would not make a public statement of his slate to the delegates, but would let his selections reach them by the "grapevine."

While Sigler toyed with the delegate picture, National committeeman Arthur E. Summerfield of Flint appeared to be directing the Vandenberg-for-President strategy—and that was cloaked.

Sigler, voicing the Summerfield-Vandenberg theories, said he thought the Republicans should send an unstructured delegation to Philadelphia. But he declared flatly it would be "pro-Vandenberg."

The governor said the Michigan Republicans did not want to do anything to "embarrass" Vandenberg in pre-convention maneuvering, but that he thought the senator, as any American, should be willing to yield to a demand for service to his country.

The Republican State Central committee, in a pre-convention meeting, agreed to hold the party fall convention in Detroit Sept. 25 after county conventions Sept. 20. Wagner said the party would need $583,600 for the campaign, of which $220,000 would go to the National committee.

Detroit, April 3 (P)—Congressional district delegates to the Republican National Convention elected today at district caucuses of the GOP State convention include:

Eleventh—Harry Fletcher, Alpena, and Robert Gille, Moran. Twelfth—Henry Peterson and Harry E. King, both Calumet.

American Guard Blocks Russians In Berlin Zone

civilians said the Russians were stopping all Berlin-bound Soviet traffic.

No explanation of the roadblock was offered by U. S. authorities. The Russians two days ago set up blocks between their sector and the three western sectors, but the blocks were removed the same day.

A 56-car train arrived bearing military government supplies for U. S. forces and dependents in Berlin. It was the first such train to arrive in several days. British forces have received three trains in the last two days.

The supply train passed the Russian checkpoint at Marien-Lorn without incident.

Under a recent Russian order, freight trains, either military or civilian, may move into Berlin upon presentation of documents. The Russians demand the right to inspect freight trains leaving the city and both incoming and outgoing passenger trains. They have claimed Berlin is being "looted" by the western zones.

After the Russian order to restrict traffic was announced, Clay arranged to bring in American supplies by air. Thirty-five planes arrived from Frankfurt yesterday, and more were flown today. If freight trains continue to come in, the food shuttle by air can be discontinued.

ARBOR DAY MAY 7
Lansing, April 3. (P)—Governor Sigler has designated April 30 in the Lower Peninsula and May 7 in the Upper Peninsula as Arbor Day, it was announced today.
